Good Morning Ops Centre;

FYI This is to advise that fencing has now been removed around the two monuments at Confederation Park at the request of VAC. Not sure that this fencing was previously reported, as these monuments are not on PSPC property.

Hi Amenda,

Our PSPC team was unable to get access to Confederation Park due to a Police Operation near the Rideau Centre. As a result they were requested by OPS to stay away from the area. The PSPC team will return tomorrow morning to dismantle the fencing around the two monuments. Once completed we will advise.

Amanda, no issues for VAC to proceed. PSPC will advise OPS.

~

Jesse, can you please advise OPS of the Veterans Affairs Canada wreath laying events (no ceremony with these two events);

- Friday, 25 February, is the End of Canadian participation in Italian Campaign (1945)
- Monday, 28 Feb. for the Liberation of Kuwait and end of the Gulf War

~

Jeffrey/Luc please work with the Ops Centre to open a Yellow Banner.

Hi Brad

~

Thanks for quick update.

~

VAC would place a wreath. It would be one person, and not a ceremony/event, but rather a simple wreath placement to mark the day.

~

We will certainly keep everyone updated on any upcoming ceremonies/events, but don't anticipate anything in coming 2 weeks.

~

For Friday and Monday, please let us know if we should refrain given current situation. We will simply just flag up our chain.

~

Appreciate your ongoing support!

Amanda;

Regarding the two events you noted below can you please advise how many people are anticipated to be on-site for these events and could you also confirm which organization will be laying the wreaths i.e. Royal Canadian Legion, VAC, DND, etc.

\~

Good morning Ian and all,

\~

Are we able to confirm if the fencing has been removed? Our senior management is seeking an update.

\~

Also, as you are aware, for some key dates VAC traditionally places a wreath (wreath placement only, not ceremony) at the NWM. This Friday, 25 February, is the End of Canadian participation in Italian Campaign (1945). Our intention would be to place a wreath in the morning. Any concerns with proceeding from your perspectives?

~

We would also be looking to place a wreath on Monday, 28 Feb. for the Liberation of Kuwait and end of the Gulf War.

~

Thank you,
Amanda

Thanks again!

Thanks, both. Ian - We received this follow-up question for these monuments? Will staff continue their regular checks? We have regular daytime Conservation Officer patrols and can certainly add these two sites to their rounds.

Is any of Confederation Park going to be fenced? What security/surveillance will remain?

Confederation Park remains closed for the time being with the NCC taking a very risk-averse approach. However, I cannot say for certain how long the fences will remain as the situation is so fluid, and will remain so until the OPS action in the core ceases. For the time being the NCC/ NAC has a security agent at Freiman Lane 24/7 who conducts regular sweeps of the park. Confederation Park is also part of the Conservation Officers' regular daytime patrols.

Good morning William & Robert,

\~

I'm just reaching out to get your perspective on the removal of fencing at both the National Aboriginal Veterans and Korean War monuments.

\~

As you certainly know the fencing has been removed from the National War Memorial and, in order to remain consistent, I believe it is time to see fencing at these two sites removed as well.

\~

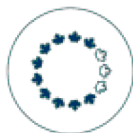

Please let me know if you have any concerns. If not, I will coordinate with PSPC, who was nice enough to install their fence for us, to have the fencing removed.

\~

Cheers
